DAWES PLAN TO BE PUT INTO EXECUTION

ALLIED PARLEY IS MOVING QUICKLY TOWARD ITS GOAL

TO PROVIDE MACHINERY FOR SETTLING REPARATIONS PROBLEM

GERMANY INVITED TO SEND DELEGATES TO THE CONFERENCE

(By United Press)
London, Aug. 2.—The allied conference here today moved rapidly towards its goal of putting the Dawes' program into execution, thus providing the machinery for a general European settlement of the reparations program.

The plenary session agreed on an invitation to Germany to send delegates to the conference and a formal invitation was telegraphed to Berlin late in the afternoon by the German ambassador.

It was understood the allied message is a simple request to the German government to send representatives to the foreign conference.

The German delegates, Chancellor Marx and Foreign Minister Stresemann, are expected to leave Berlin late tonight.

The invitation was written by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald as president of the conference.

"The conference is the biggest success of any allied meeting since the treaty of Versailles was signed," Col. James A. Logan of the United States told newspapermen after the day's plenary session had adjourned.

EUROPEAN EXCHANGES JUMPED SHARPLY

New York, Aug. 2.—European exchanges jumped sharply at the close of the day's money market on the strength of reports from London that the Allied conference has reached an agreement on application of the Dawes' program for settlement of the German reparations question.

Sterling demand reached a new high for the year at $4.43 3-4, up 2 3-8 from the opening and within about 40 cents of normal pre-war rates.

France's francs also jumped to .0530 cents, up .0016 over the opening. Lire and Belgium's francs also increased somewhat.

$200,000,000 LOAN TO TEUTONS

New York, Aug. 2.—Bankers intimately identified with the $200,000,000 loan to Germany provided in the Dawes program state that one-half of the amount will be offered in the United States, the Dow-Jones Financial News Agency said today.

"A prominent international financier who recently returned from abroad where he has been in close touch with conferees for providing the necessary machinery to make the Dawes plan operative said the loan probably will come within the next three or four weeks," the agency said.

He Beats Wife Sick For Unconcern Over Sick Dog

Los Angeles, Aug. 2. — Charlie Sharie cherished his dog a great deal more than his wife, according to the divorce complaint of Mrs. Selma A. Sharie, filed in court here.

The dog was sick. She failed to sympathize. Thereupon Sharie blacked both her eyes, Mrs. Sharie declared.

Then both she and the dog were sick. She asked Sharie to call a physician for her. But he went all over town looking for a veterinarian for the dog, leaving her medical needs unattended, she asserted.

Chicago Begins Probe of Murder-A-Day Record

Chicago, Aug. 2.—A special meeting of the Chicago crime commission was called by Pres. Charles R. Holden to check the city's record of a "murder a day."

Thirty murders were committed in Chicago during the 31 days of July. The record shows 205 murders for the first 213 days.

GENERAL RIOT IN MEXICO CITY; 1 KILLED, 5 WOUNDED

(By United Press)
Mexico City, Aug. 2.—Political tension was high here today following a riot between civilians and militarized police and firemen in which one civilian was killed and five wounded.

The riot took place near the palace when the police and firemen attempted to disperse a procession demonstrating against high taxes.

REPUBLICANS

TO GET OUT A LARGE VOTE

EFFORT MADE TO STEM THE LA-FOLLETTE TIDE

THIS SECTION, DEEMED REPUBLICAN, HAS VOTED INDEPENDENTLY

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 2.—Republicans will try to get out the biggest vote in the history of the Northwest in November, in an effort to stem the LaFollette tide.

This section, although looked upon as strongly republican, has voted independently ever since Theodore Roosevelt rode a third party ticket and took huge majorities in the Northwest in 1912.

The state of Minnesota even came near giving Woodrow Wilson a majority when he ran on his famous peace platform. Party ties were largely forgotten.

Now republicans are prepared to make the biggest fight in a dozen years to return Minnesota, North and South Dakota to the fold.

They have no hope of gaining majorities piled up in former years, but they hope to get out a record vote and poll every ballot available to them.

W. F. Brooks, Minneapolis, Minnesota national committeeman, and W. W. Sivright, republican state chairman, are understood to have urged the plan of opening Coolidge headquarters for the Northwest in Minneapolis. They feel that a real Coolidge effort in the Northwest will serve to restore party harmony.

CORN STAGES SHARP RALLY IN CHICAGO

PROSPECTS OF ACUTE SHORTAGE IN CORN STOCKS SUGGESTED

STRENGTH IN CORN COMMUNICATED TO OTHER GRAINS

(By United Press)
Chicago, Aug. 2.—Prospects of an acute shortage in corn stocks as suggested in private estimates caused a sharp rally in prices on the Board of Trade today, with all deliveries reaching into new high ground for the season.

September deliveries went up 2 3-4 to a close of $1.14 1/2, December 4 5-8 to $1.04, May 3 7-8 to $1.04 1/4.

The strength in corn was communicated to other grains. Wheat was up from 1 3-8 to 1 5-8 and oats finished up 1 1-8 to 1 1/4.

CORN TO NEW HIGH PRICES IN KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 2.—Corn futures jumped to new highs on the Kansas City Board of Trade today. September corn opened at $1.06 1/2 and was up to $1.08 in two hours, 2 1/2 cents higher than the previous high mark.

PLAYS HIS CARDS WITH RARE SURENESS

DARROW AWAITS CHANCE FOR SURPRISE PLAY IN LEOPOLD-LOEB CASE

MAY BRING DEFENSE TO AN ABRUPT TERMINATION

(By United Press)
Criminal Courtroom, Chicago, Aug. 2.—Playing his cards with the sureness of a master, Clarence Darrow, chief defense attorney in the Leopold-Loeb murder case, is awaiting an opportunity to make a surprise play and rest his case. Darrow feels that his efforts have been so effective thus far that he may not be forced to play out his entire hand as planned.

A new surprise move is expected—a move that will bring the defense case to an abrupt termination. Defense attorneys made it known that their earlier plans called for the introduction of evidence by numerous alienists, members of the Leopold and Loeb families, close friends, acquaintances—including boys and girls—and perhaps the boys themselves. The witnesses were to go into the history of the boys and perhaps even further.

But Darrow, keen observer and crafty player, feels elated with his work thus far and it was made known he feels he does not have to expend much more force to win the victory—the victory being to have Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb sentenced to life in prison.

Several defense alienists remained to testify after Dr. William A. White of Washington concluded his testimony. Whether Darrow will place more than another one on the stand depends on how he interprets the mood of the court. At least Darrow feels he has established his point—that the youths were not wholly responsible for their crime.

Darrow also believes he has produced sufficient evidence to compel "mitigation of punishment," and observers are inclined to believe he will bring his case to a close with the same abruptness that he entered his plea of guilty to the murder.

Dr. White's testimony, rather a lecture on the mental and emotional histories of the boys, was easily the most sensational yet produced in the judicial hearing.

FAILS TO FORCE MENTALITY TO JURY

Chicago, Aug. 2.—State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe today failed for the second time to force the mentality condition of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb before a jury.

While cross examining Dr. William A. White, an alienist who appeared in defense of the millionaire youths who murdered Robert Franks, Crowe attempted to force the witness to state whether in his opinion the boys were insane.

The defense objected to this question and was sustained by Chief Justice John R. Caverly, who is hearing evidence to determine whether Leopold and Loeb shall hang or be sent to prison.

Falling in this direct attempt, Crowe tried by various subtle questions to force Dr. White to change the question of "mental responsibility" to the question of insanity. Every time he was repulsed.

The fiery state's attorney maintained his first effort to throw the question of the boys' mental status before a jury several days ago when he objected to the admissibility of alienists' testimony by the court.

His contention was that such a question must be heard before a jury but after lengthy debate he was overruled.

Crowe scored, however, what he considers a successful attack upon the credibility of the defense alienist when his demand for White's original report on Leopold and Loeb was refused by the defense.

Crowe declared that Dr. White in his first report found Leopold and

WIND AND RAIN STORMS DAMAGE IN TWO STATES

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 2.—Two violent wind and rain storms brought heavy damage in central Wisconsin and in the Red River valley of northwestern Minnesota at 8:30 today. The storms apparently struck simultaneously.

Telephone and telegraph companies in the Twin Cities reported heavy damage to their systems in those sections.

Rudolph Priewe, 19, was killed near Amelia, N. D., while shocking grain by another storm late yesterday. A bolt of lightning brought instantaneous death.

The roof of the German Catholic church in Little Falls, Minn., was riddled by lightning, a terrific electrical storm passing over that section early this morning—freakish in that no rain accompanied it.

Wires of the American Telephone and Telegraph company were severed in a score of places by fallen trees. Subsidiary companies operating in Minnesota and Wisconsin also reported much trouble due to high winds.

There was considerable damage in various sections between the Twin Cities and the Canadian border and north to Winnipeg. Just south of Tomah, Wis., much wire trouble was reported.

ONE MAN KILLED AND FIVE HOMES BURNED

St. Paul, Aug. 2.—Storms caused heavy damage to crops and buildings in various sections of the Northwest last night and today. One man was killed in North Dakota and five homes near Mendota, not far from St. Paul on the Minnesota river, were fired when wind felled a 2,300-volt power line.

Mike Finch, 30, was probably fatally injured in the home of Mrs. M. Welch, when he grasped the telephone wire while fighting flames, and received the full charge of the power line current. He was burned from head to foot and was momentarily expected to die at Ancker hospital.

Reports from Moorhead said a severe hail storm east of there caused heavy damage to crops early today.

MOTOR TROUBLE ONLY KIND HAD

NO DOMESTIC OUTBURSTS BETWEEN EDITH DAY AND HUSBAND

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Aug. 2.—The only trouble Edith Day and her husband, Peter Somerset, have had is with their motor car, the noted musical comedy star made known today thus replying to rumors of domestic strife.

Oscar Day, Edith's father, has been "pestered" with inquiries concerning the sailing of the Day-Somerset matrimonial ship the last few days, he said.

"I talked to Edith at Oshkosh last night. She and Pat are motoring from Chicago. They are having motor trouble, but they are not having any other kind of trouble," Day said. "They will be here for a visit tomorrow."

Loeb insane, but when the defense changed its mind and pleaded guilty, thus giving up insanity as a defense, the doctor "quite conveniently" changed his conclusion for the purpose of aiding the defense cause.

Judge Caverly sustained the defense's claim that it was not necessary to submit the doctor's original report.

SHIPSTEAD IS PREPARING FOR FALL CAMPAIGN

PLANS SPEECHES TO SUPPORT LA FOLLETTE-WHEELER CAMPAIGN

SPEAKING TOUR THROUGH THE NORTHWEST, TO COAST AND MIDDLE WEST

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Aug. 2. — Senator Henrik Shipstead, senior farmer-labor senator from Minnesota, is back in the Twin Cities today to prepare for the fall campaign.

He began preparing speeches for the LaFollette-Wheeler speaking tour that will take him through the Northwest, along the Pacific coast, and later through Illinois, Ohio and Michigan. This tour will begin on September 1.

"Within five years," Senator Shipstead said, "the eastern states will feel the same way politically as Minnesota and Wisconsin. The old parties are dead or dying."

"The present administration," he declared, "has been the most corrupt in history. The Teapot Dome investigation only scratched the surface."

Senator Shipstead spoke on the same platform with Mayor Leach of Minneapolis last night in the courthouse assembly room.

In speaking of the senatorial investigation he charged that the real reason for the dismissal of William J. Burns as head of the department of justice investigation bureau was that Burns' detectives had been found on the executive committee of labor unions in West Virginia.

SAD TALE OF TONY RICE AND HIS $250

AIDS TWO ATTRACTIVE GIRLS IN PHILANTHROPIC WORK

VISION OF $15,000 FADES WHEN THE SUIT CASE IS OPENED

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 2. — Tony Rice, fresh from the North Dakota farms, turned philanthropist early this week to aid a newly found but "dying" friend.

Just today he learned the extent of his philanthropy and notified the police.

Tony, who has been rooming in Minneapolis, met a couple of beauties on Washington avenue south. They treated him royally—took him automobile riding.

And lo, while riding they came across a lonely shack in the woods, wherein lay a dying man. He "ad," so he said, been given $15,000 by another dying friend to distribute philanthropically—with a certain percentage for expenses, of course—because the money had been unlawfully obtained. He would pass his commission to Rice and his friends, he said, provided he was assured they were financially responsible.

Rice withdrew $250 from the bank—his summer's savings. His friends contributed a slightly greater amount. The dying man handed over $15,000. The money was placed in a nice, shiny new suitcase purchased for the occasion and handed to Rice to "keep" until plans for making the distribution of the philanthropy money could be arranged. Today Rice opened the suitcase, just to see what $15,000 and then some looked like. He found $1 bills and a quantity of white paper.

GOMPERS IN HIS BIGGEST BATTLE TODAY

MAY LEAD TO ESTABLISHING OF LABOR GOVERNMENT IN THE U. S.

QUALIFIED ENDORSEMENT OF LA FOLLETTE MAY FOLLOW

(By United Press)
Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 2. — Samuel Gompers, war-scarred veteran of labor's half century fight for supremacy, weakened by encroaching ill health and with a nurse and physician in constant attendance, today began the biggest battle of his career.

It is a battle which may result in the first nationally concerted political movement to establish a labor government in the United States, paralleling the new labor governments in Europe, which have risen to power in revolt of farmers and workers against the old line political affiliations.

Gompers himself, taciturn and secretive, is pictured by closest friends as believing that the present chance of success lies in action by the executive council of his American Federation of Labor to swing vigorously in behind the presidential candidacy of Senator Robert M. LaFollette.

The council begins its second day's session this morning. It has before it the unanimous recommendation of its political campaign committee giving a qualified endorsement of the LaFollette candidacy. First formal discussion by the council is scheduled for this afternoon.

PUBLIC FUNDS BANK BALANCE OF STATE GOOD

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 2.—Minnesota's public funds bank balance is in healthy condition.

The state revenue fund had a total of $2,720,900 to its credit August 1, according to Henry Rines, state treasurer, while last year there was a deficit of $497,183.

Despite disbursements of more than $10,000,000 in July, there is a balance in the fund of $21,044,395, records of George LaFond, chief statistician, reveal. Last year the total was $7,511,713.

Receipts from the iron mine occupational tax and inheritance taxes are credited with maintaining this favorable balance.

Refuse to Mobilize Wisconsin National Guard Defense Day

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 2.—Neither the White House nor the War Department would comment today on the action of Governor Blaine of Wisconsin in refusing to mobilize the Wisconsin national guard for "defense test" day.

Acting Secretary of War Davis conferred with Mr. Coolidge during the morning, but it could not be learned if Blaine's action had been discussed. On leaving the White House Davis said he would have the records traced as to Blaine's views on the test and perhaps he would have a statement later in the day.

War department officials believed the government would take practically no notice of Blaine's action. If Blaine does not want to aid the test by mobilizing the guard, they said, that is up to him.

NELSON WINGING HIS WAY ALONE TO BLEAK ICELAND

FOG BANK 25 MILES FROM HOUTON BAY CAUSED SEPARATION

CRUISER RICHMOND SENT OUT UNDER FULL STEAM TO TRAIL FLIERS

(By United Press)
Kirkwall, Orkney Islands, Aug. 2. —Lieut. Erick Nelson of the American round the world flight was winging his way toward Iceland alone today after becoming separated from his flying mates in a fog 25 miles out of Houton Bay, off Kirkwall.

Lieut. Lowell Smith, commander of the flight, and Lieut. Leigh Wade decided to return to Houton Bay when they ran into the dense mist which hung over the sea.

The commander and Wade flew back to Kirkwall at 10:15 a. m. and circled over Houton Bay to their landing buoys.

Meantime the U. S. Cruiser Richmond, which had cheered the fliers' departure, put out to sea under full steam to trail in the wake of the speeding aviator and render him assistance if it is needed.

The Richmond sent out hurried radio to the torpedo boat destroyers Reid and Billingsley, warning them that Nelson was on his way and asking that a close lookout be kept for him.

The two ships previously had taken up positions along the route of the fliers from Houton Bay to Hornafjord, Iceland.

TORPEDO BOAT SIGHTED NELSON

Aboard the U. S. Cruiser Richmond, Houton Bay, Orkney Islands, Aug. 2.—Lieut. Erick Nelson, missing American round the world aviator, has been sighted off the Faroe Islands by the torpedo boat destroyer Billingsley.

The Billingsley radioed the Richmond that the missing aviator, who became separated from his comrades, Lieuts. Smith and Wade, 25 miles off Houton Bay this morning, flew over the Faroes at 12:50 Greenwich time.

Nelson was speeding toward Iceland, apparently determined to continue his flight to Hornafjord alone.

The weather was clear and conditions ahead are favorable.

Nelson is accompanied by Mechanic Harding.

NELSON BELIEVED RETURNING TO ORKNEYS

Kirkwall, Orkney Islands, Aug. 2. —Lieut. Erick Nelson was sighted at 2:30 p. m. and is believed to be returning to the Orkneys, according to a radio message received here.

CONTRADICTORY MESSAGE RECEIVED

Houton Bay, Orkney Islands, Aug. 2.—A radio from the destroyer Reid at 3:50 p. m. said Nelson passed over the ship at 2:40 still headed toward Iceland. He had covered about 400 miles and was within less than 200 miles of Hornafjord.

The Reid was half way between the Faroe Islands and Iceland.

(This message contradicts a radio picked up by the Kirkwall shore station saying that Nelson was returning to the Orkneys at 2:30 p. m.)

WHITE HOUSE FLAG HALF-MASTED FOR HARDING

Washington, Aug. 2.—One year ago tonight death suddenly struck down President Harding in San Francisco.

St. Paul, Aug. 2.—Tony Rice, fresh from the North Dakota farms, turned philanthropist early this week to aid a newly found but "dying" friend.

Just today he learned the extent of his philanthropy and notified the police.

Tony, who has been rooming in Minneapolis, met a couple of beauties on Washington avenue south. They treated him royally—took him automobile riding.

And lo, while riding they came across a lonely shack in the woods, wherein lay a dying man. He had, so he said, been given $15,000 by another dying friend to distribute philanthropically—with a certain percentage for expenses, of course—because the money had been unlawfully obtained. He would pass his commission to Rice and his friends, he said, provided he was assured they were financially responsible.

Rice withdrew $250 from the bank—his summer's savings. His friends contributed a slightly greater amount. The dying man handed over $15,000. The money was placed in a nice, shiny new suitcase purchased for the occasion and handed to Rice to "keep" until plans for making the distribution of the philanthropy money could be arranged. Today Rice opened the suitcase, just to see what $15,000 and then some looked like. He found 3 $1 bills and a quantity of white paper.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 2.—George Shiras, former associate justice of the United States supreme court, died here today. He was 92 years old.

GOMPERS IN HIS BIGGEST BATTLE TODAY

MAY LEAD TO ESTABLISHING OF LABOR GOVERNMENT IN THE U. S.

QUALIFIED ENDORSEMENT OF LA FOLLETTE MAY FOLLOW

(By United Press)
Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 2.—Samuel Gompers, war-scarred veteran of labor's half century fight for supremacy, weakened by encroaching ill health and with a nurse and physician in constant attendance, today began the biggest battle of his career.

It is a battle which may result in the first nationally concerted political movement to establish a labor government in the United States, paralleling the new labor governments in Europe, which have risen to power in revolt of farmers and workers against the old line political affiliations.

Gompers himself, taciturn and secretive, is pictured by closest friends as believing that the present chance of success lies in action by the executive council of his American Federation of Labor to swing vigorously in behind the presidential candidacy of Senator Robert M. LaFollette.

The council begins its second day's session this morning. It has before it the unanimous recommendation of its political campaign committee giving a qualified endorsement of the LaFollette candidacy. First formal discussion by the council is scheduled for this afternoon.

PUBLIC FUNDS BANK BALANCE OF STATE GOOD

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 2.—Minnesota's public funds bank balance is in healthy condition.

The state revenue fund had a total of $2,720,900 to its credit August 1, according to Henry Rines, state treasurer, while last year there was a deficit of $497,183.

Despite disbursements of more than $10,000,000 in July, there is a balance in the fund of $21,044,395, records of George LaFond, chief statistician, reveal. Last year the total was $7,511,713.

Receipts from the iron mine occupational tax and inheritance taxes are credited with maintaining this favorable balance.

Refuse to Mobilize Wisconsin National Guard Defense Day

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 2.—Neither the White House nor the War Department would comment today on the action of Governor Blaine of Wisconsin in refusing to mobilize the Wisconsin national guard for "defense test" day.

Acting Secretary of War Davis conferred with Mr. Coolidge during the morning, but it could not be learned if Blaine's action had been discussed. On leaving the White House Davis said he would have the records traced as to Blaine's views on the test and perhaps he would have a statement later in the day.

War department officials believed the government would take practically no notice of Blaine's action. If Blaine does not want to aid the test by mobilizing the guard, they said, that is up to him.

NELSON WINGING HIS WAY ALONE TO BLEAK ICELAND

FOG BANK 25 MILES FROM HOUTON BAY CAUSED SEPARATION

CRUISER RICHMOND SENT OUT UNDER FULL STEAM TO TRAIL FLIERS

(By United Press)
Kirkwall, Orkney Islands, Aug. 2.—Lieut. Erick Nelson of the American round the world flight was winging his way toward Iceland alone today after becoming separated from his flying mates in a fog 25 miles out of Houton Bay, off Kirkwall.

Lieut. Lowell Smith, commander of the flight, and Lieut. Leigh Wade decided to return to Houton Bay when they ran into the dense mist which hung over the sea.

The commander and Wade flew back to Kirkwall at 10:15 a. m. and circled over Houton Bay to their landing buoys.

Meantime the U. S. Cruiser Richmond, which had cheered the fliers' departure, put out to sea under full steam to trail in the wake of the speeding aviator and render him assistance if it is needed.

The Richmond sent out hurried radios to the torpedo boat destroyers Reid and Billingsley, warning them that Nelson was on his way and asking that a close lookout be kept for him.

The two ships previously had taken up positions along the route of the fliers from Houton Bay to Hornafjord, Iceland.

TORPEDO BOAT SIGHTED NELSON

Aboard the U. S. Cruiser Richmond, Houton Bay, Orkney Islands, Aug. 2.—Lieut. Erick Nelson, missing American round the world aviator, has been sighted off the Faroe Islands by the torpedo boat destroyer Billingsley.

The Billingsley radioed the Richmond that the missing aviator, who became separated from his comrades, Lieuts. Smith and Wade, 25 miles off Houton Bay this morning, flew over the Faroes at 12:50 Greenwich time.

Nelson was speeding toward Iceland, apparently determined to continue his flight to Hornafjord alone.

The weather was clear and conditions ahead are favorable. Nelson is accompanied by Mechanic Harding.

NELSON BELIEVED RETURNING TO ORKNEYS

Kirkwall, Orkney Islands, Aug. 2.—Lieut. Erick Nelson was sighted at 2:30 p. m. and is believed to be returning to the Orkneys, according to a radio message received here.

CONTRADICTORY MESSAGE RECEIVED

Houton Bay, Orkney Islands, Aug. 2.—A radio from the destroyer Reid at 3:50 p. m. said Nelson passed over the ship at 2:40 still headed toward Iceland. He had covered about 400 miles and was within less than 200 miles of Hornafjord.

The Reid was half way between the Faroe Islands and Iceland. (This message contradicts a radio picked up by the Kirkwall shore station saying that Nelson was returning to the Orkneys at 2:30 p. m.)

WHITE HOUSE FLAG HALF-MASTED FOR HARDING

Washington, Aug. 2.—One year ago tonight death suddenly struck down President Harding in San Francisco.

A few hours later President Coolidge took the oath of office in the parlor of his father's farmhouse in Plymouth, Vermont, his father administering the oath.

The White House flag today was half-masted in memory of the late president.

Twenty Year Old Girl Tarred and Feathered by Maryland Mob, Woman Accused of Applying Tar

Miss Dorothy Grandon, of Martinsburg, W. Va., was seized by a mob of men and women in automobiles near Frederick, Md., stripped of her clothing, tarred and feathered, then left in the road in a semi-conscious condition. It is said that the members of the mob wanted her to leave town. She is seen at the left, showing one of her burns. At the right is Mrs. Mary Shank, of Myerstown, Md., who with eight men was arrested after the attack. Mrs. Shank, the magistrate said, admitted she beat the girl, stripped off her clothing and applied the tar and feathers. The nine prisoners were held in $2,000 bail each for the Grand Jury.

LOW BIDDERS

ON ROAD WORK

St. Paul, August 2.—Low bidders on state trunk route improvement projects in proposals opened Tuesday, were made public today by Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner. Awards of contracts will be made early next week, following final re-checks of bids, the commissioner said.

The list of projects and low bidders on each follows:

T. H. No. 3.—Sauk Centre-Frederick, Chris Johnson, St. Paul, 15 miles of grading, at $47,220; McCree Company, St. Paul, culverts on same, at $2,726; Ostrand & Hallet, Crosby, 3½ miles of paving and grading at Melrose, at $106,446, and 3 miles of paving only at Sauk Centre, at $82,604.

T. H. No. 5.—Shakopee-Jordan, D. W. Moore, St. Paul, 11½ miles of grading, at $32,134; Lundin Bros., Mankato, culverts on same, at $8,302.

T. H. No. 5.—Jordan south, J. J. & M. S. Mergens, Minneapolis, 16 miles of grading, at $72,730; Lundin Bros., culverts on same, at $18,562.

T. H. No. 6.—Wheaton north, Mike Rudnick, Alexandria, 15 miles of grading, at $45,632; Carl Swedberg, Wheaton, culverts at $1,655; A. E. Anderson, Sebeka, 75-foot bridge at $8,395.

T. H. No. 6.—Wolverton north, S. G. Enebek, Warren, 12½ miles of grading, at $36,976; Edward Mattson, St. Paul, culverts at $8,194.

T. H. No. 8.—4½ miles west of Crookston, Iowa Bridge Co., Minneapolis, 30-foot bridge, at $1,789.

T. H. No. 67.—Echo north, Lobnitz Grading Co., Olivia, 4 miles of grading at $10,213; Pederson Bros.,

Montevideo, culverts at $538.

On different trunk routes—30 miles or about 150,000 feet of guard rail to E. W. Kibby, Minneapolis at $37,193 or 21 cents a lineal foot.

The paving figures are on the basis of concrete with gravel aggregate at $2.20 a square yard and rock aggregate at $2.23 a square yard. The state purposes to pave 18-foot strips through Melrose and Sauk Centre and those cities will pave the additional width of the streets, assessing the cost against abutting property.

Nearly 200 bids were received Tuesday in spite of the fact that comparatively little work was listed and further that the season is well advanced, highway officials said. The prices were on usual levels.

County reimbursement bond funds will be used on all the projects except the small bridge near Crookston and the guard rail work, the officials added.

BONUS PAPERS 1,000 A DAY

(From Chicago Daily Tribune)
Washington, D. C., Aug. 2.—One thousand bonus applications have been put through every day since July 25, when the war department began its task of passing on the million that have been received.

Two thousand clerks have been hard at work since June 14—when funds for the administration of the bonus law became available—distributing application blanks and perfecting the records of the veterans whose applications failed to include necessary data.

10,000,000 Items for Records
During this period 10,000,000 items of record and the information from about 80,000 muster rolls have been filed with the records.

When the system of handling the applications is perfected the output will be increased to 30,000 or 40,000 a day.

Insurance certificates are dated January 1, 1925, and cash payments are due March 1, 1925.

Gen. Robert C. Davis, adjutant general of the army, said the department is ready to receive all applications. He requested that veterans who have not so far applied, but who intend to do so, submit their applications as soon as possible.

Delay May be Costly
This will be to the interest of both the department and the veterans, he said. If death should occur prior to the filing of an application the dependent would receive only a third the amount he or she would have received had the veteran applied before death.

Gen. Davis asked that veterans carefully follow the instruction for making applications. It has been found in many cases that veterans neglected to sign their applications or have not secured the signatures of necessary witnesses. Furthermore, finger prints should be made so the full imprint of the four fingers is thoroughly legible.

War Records of Seven Aliens Bar Them From American Citizenship

(From St. Paul Pioneer Press)
A half dozen young men who failed to serve in the World War found it a bar to citizenship when they appeared before District Judge Olin B. Lewis Thursday at one of the periodical hearings on petitions of aliens for admission to citizenship.

The men claimed exemption because they were aliens when Uncle

Sam entered the war. They heard Thomas J. Griffing, deputy naturalization officer, recommend that their petitions be dismissed and the court grant the order, which will require them to file a new petition and start all over again.

Seventy-seven, representing several foreign countries, were admitted to citizenship, Mr. Griffing recommended that the applications of many be continued because they were unable to read and understand English well, and consequently the laws and customs of this country.

The next hearing will be in November.

NATIONAL DEFENSE DAY

"NATIONAL DEFENSE DAY" has received a lot of publicity after Davis and Bryan, democratic candidates for president and vice president, saw fit to inject the whole matter into politics.

President Coolidge has entered a denial that the war department plans for "National Defense Day" contemplate a disruption of business in any way. The president defended the war department order, stating that "the people of several states are expected to participate in accordance with such opportunity as they may have for a patriotic demonstration. National Defense Day plans for the patriotic demonstration are dependent on state and local desires, and intended to be purely voluntary."

President Coolidge said "he was informed that the war department plans contemplate a practice, by all military forces and officials, national, state and local, associated with steps necessary to demonstrate the defense policy enacted by congress."

"In this connection," he said further, "a patriotic demonstration has been suggested to be participated in as desired by state and local communities. While the plans of Gen. Duncan for the patriotic exercise should guide all components of the army of the United States, the plans for patriotic demonstration are dependent on state and local desires and are intended to be purely voluntary."

Some cities are preparing for a demonstration on the day named, others have paid no attention to the whole matter and wonder what the argument is all about. In Chicago the day will be observed on a big scale and made a real patriotic demonstration. In Brainerd, for instance, we doubt if any attention has been paid to the matter beyond reading the newspaper accounts.

As so clearly stated by President Coolidge, the plans for the patriotic demonstration are wholly dependent on state and local desires and are intended to be purely voluntary.

MISS HIMROD TO PUBLISH BRAINERD TRIBUNE

MISS ANNA HIMROD, who formerly published the Ironton News, today takes possession of the Brainerd Tribune, and will publish that weekly in the future.

Miss Himrod plans to give most of her attention to the development of the farming interests in the county, a field in which she believes there are many possibilities.

The Brainerd Tribune has been in existence for over fifty years. A. J. Halsted sold the paper to R. S. Wilcox some three years ago, and it has been since published under his direction.

Miss Himrod brings to the Tribune ten years of experience in newspaper work, and hopes to cover the Brainerd territory with an interesting and valuable farm weekly.

The Brainerd Dispatch welcomes Miss Himrod and hopes she will be successful in her chosen career.

WORK OF THE VETERANS BUREAU

THE Veterans Bureau in our Tenth District, comprising the states of Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota, disburses millions. During 1923 the Special Disbursing Agent issued 206,409 checks carrying a total disbursement of over $12,000,000. The present year will show a still greater volume.

There is an immense amount of detail work. All the checks are written in sheets of five and signed with a signograph which makes five signatures at a time. Practically all of these checks, averaging over eight hundred a day, are signed by the special disbursing agent personally.

FOREST RANGERS AS TIMBER APPRAISERS

SEVEN forest rangers have been named to act also as timber appraisers for the state, according to the announcement made by State Auditor Ray P. Chase. They will serve in the two capacities without additional cost to the state.

As rangers they have gained a thorough knowledge of the country they traverse and their experience is of value to the state. The rangers appointed will appraise timber which the state is to place on sale and will make their reports to the state timber board.

Of the rangers appointed, P. W. Swedberg of Moose Lake is well known in Brainerd.

A COUNTRY that can close its year with a treasury balance of more than $400,000,000, that can collect $1,185,000,000 income taxes in one year, and that can reduce its public debt by $5,250,000,000 in five years is not fertile soil for the growth of pessimism. The U. S. A. is O.K. says Forbes Magazine.

AFTER a man is dead for a long time, his works, especially if he is a writer or painter, may command high prices, much higher than when he was alive. In a recent sale in London a first issue, first edition of Pickwick, sold for $7,000. A first edition copy of Gray's Elegy brought $7,750.

AMERICA is now not the only country exercising discrimination in landing aliens. The United Kingdom in 1923 refused admission to 3,173. The rejected included 571 Italians, 487 French, 308 Germans and about a hundred Americans.

THE man who first bottled beer for export was toasted by vintners in London. With our dry laws in effect it was too late to pay him any honors in America, that is, to do it legally.

A GOOD thing to use in conjunction with self-government is self-control, says the Tucson Citizen.

Mother Seal Brings Up Family Strictly

Maternal discipline is as pronounced among the seal families as among human beings, according to men who have spent many years along the shores of Cook Inlet, Alaska, and have studied aquatic life there.

From the time a baby seal is laid snugly within a bed of dry seaweed until he receives a final spanking and is directed to hustle for himself, he is subjected to unrelenting discipline. Contrary to popular belief, a baby seal is as helpless in the water at birth as a human baby would be. It must be taught to swim and instructed in all the lore of seal life, including how to hunt food and escape its enemies.

Charles Couch, who has made half seal hunting a business for years, says he has watched a mother seal teaching her baby to swim. The mother would flounder out on the rocky shore, gather the baby under her flipper and slip carefully into the water. Suspending the baby on her flipper, she would bark, grunt, whine and wheedle to indicate what was desired. If the baby refused to perform, it was effectively spanked with the mother's flipper. The young seal gradually learns to swim by floundering a few strokes at a time, with the mother snatching it from danger every time it becomes exhausted or starts to sink.

Some of the beachcombers adopt baby seals as pets. They become as faithful as dogs and, if one decides to banish them, are as hard to get rid of as cats. An instance was cited where a baby seal was taken out to sea in the hope that it would reunite with its herd. About midnight there was a plaintive wail at the cabin door. Like the traditional cat, the seal had come back. He howled until he was admitted to the family circle and fed a piece of fish.

Stockings in History

The antecedents of present-day stockings were first worn by men, says the Detroit News. The early Anglo-Saxon stockings were known as "scin" hose and were a mark of wealth and station. They were made of leather and wrapped around the leg like a bandage. King Canute wore stockings reaching to his knees and striped horizontally in two colors. The introduction of what has become the modern sock was King Robert, while King Edgar ensnatched his legs with garters of gold. The Norman conquest, however, brought a return to the cross gartering, and William the Conqueror's hose were of red leather over which there was a cross gartering of blue with gold tassels.

The dandies of France under Charles the Wise wore stockings of different colors on each leg. Black and yellow, green and purple, and green and yellow were some of the combinations they affected. The fashion of embroidering stockings with colored silks came in with Edward I, and long hose became the vogue in the fourteenth century. Queen Philippa, consort of Edward III, had stockings of seven different colors. It was during the reign of this couple that the circular garter came into use. Under Cromwell the gay colors and embroidered hose were replaced by sober black and brown, but it was not long before the bright hues returned. Then, with long trousers for men, came socks, and silk-embroidered stockings took their places chiefly as intimate associates of women.

Seasickness

"New York doctors," says the St. Louis Star, "express themselves as unimpressed with the much-heralded 'oxygen cure' for seasickness. They say seasickness is here to stay; that there is no cure except to stay ashore."

"And not always is one immune if one stays ashore. There are those who become seasick through swinging in hammocks, in a rocking chair, and even from riding on street cars that swing sharply around curves. For these the pronouncement of doctors comes as a real blow. Their sad experience must be undergone again when they travel abroad. They must still get their thrills of a sea voyage from books, and through anticipation of the delights that await them when they disembark at the end of the journey."

His Reception

"I went to Lum Lagg's house last night," related young Dodd Durnitt, a swain of Slippery Slap, "and Miss Lobella, his daughter, came to the door with a shotgun in her hands. I took one look and tore out, and she fired a couple of shots at me as I was splitting the wind away from there, but didn't hit me."

"What in tunkett do you reckon made her do that-a-way?" asked an acquaintance.

"Well, I went there to tell her that they had arrested her dad for running a still, but I reckon she must a-figgered from my looks that I aimed to ask her to marry me, or something of the sort."—Kansas City Star.

Round-House

The minister and his wife were on their first pastoral call of the season. The home happened to be that of a woman who was seldom seen at church.

The minister's wife, desirous of creating a good impression, opened a conversation by asking: "You get your children up to Sunday school in time, don't you?"

"Land sakes, woman," was the reply. "I've got 13 children, an' by the time I've got 'em all up ready to rust un's comin' home agin."

Rules of the Game

Every time a pedestrian reaches the other side of the street he shall be credited with a run.

When a pedestrian scores from a safety isle the nearest motorist shall be charged with an error.

A pedestrian who leaps out of the way of a motor car and collides with another pedestrian shall be credited with a sacrifice bump.

When a motor car stalls at a street crossing the driver shall be charged with a balk and all pedestrians in the vicinity allowed to advance.

Any pedestrian who reaches a safety isle while the traffic umpire's back is turned shall receive credit for a clean steal.

When a pedestrian, in eluding a motor truck, is tagged by another motor truck, he is out, the first driver being credited with an assist.

Any pedestrian who argues with the traffic umpire shall be given a walk.

A pedestrian who is in a hurry and is kept waiting five minutes on a safety isle shall be put out.

When a pedestrian has stolen home he shall be declared reasonably safe.—Ward Twichell in Life.

The Purpose of Trouble

There is always more purpose or destiny in trouble than in a "soft time." No man is ever a top-notch canoist until he gets caught out on the water in several big storms. No man really knows an auto or other piece of mechanism until it breaks down and he has to repair it. And no man or woman experiences the real purpose of life until they go through trouble and conquer it.—Erle Dispatch-Herald.

When Tony Scored

The judge was examining Tony, who was anxious to take out citizenship papers.

"Where is the capital of the United States?" the judge asked.

"I don't know," Tony muttered and hung his head.

"Who is the President of the United States?"

After an interval came the same answer. To all appearances the Italian was so nervous that he could remember nothing; nor could he read the preamble to the Constitution, which was the next test.

The judge dismissed him rather curtly with the advice to go home and study, and poor Tony slunk away. But when he was halfway to the door he turned suddenly and, much to the astonishment of every one in the courtroom, shouted at the judge:

"How many da banan on da buch?" The judge was plainly irritated. "I don't know," he said sharply. "What's that got to do with this?"

"You knowa your business; I knowa mine," replied Tony and strode out of the room.—Youth's Companion.

As It Seemed to Gladys

The head of the house had telephoned that he would bring home a guest to luncheon—a guest whom his wife realized he would delight to honor.

Preparations were made accordingly with results satisfactory to her hospitable and housewifely heart.

Unfortunately, six-year-old Gladys came in a trifle late. Sweeping the table with an all-embracing glance "Hum" she muttered, audibly as she climbed into her chair. "Is this lunch?"

"Why, of course, it's luncheon Gladys," said her mother, with a repressive gesture.

But Gladys was not to be stayed.

"Well," she replied, "maybe it is but it looks exactly like Sunday dinner."

Dr. Syntax Was Stern Student, but Milly Won

By ELMER PHILLIPS

DOCTOR SYNTAX was not more than forty, though he seemed bowed beneath the weight of his recondite investigations.

When Aloysius Benton, his friend and colleague, died, ten years before, leaving his twelve-year-old daughter to Doctor Syntax, it was the most natural thing in the world that the kindly old doctor should take the child into his household. After old Janet died, Milly quite naturally became the doctor's housekeeper.

And now certain persons had whispered that it was not proper for an unmarried man, even a professor, to live alone in the house with the girl.

Doctor Syntax had been in love when he was a young man. The object of his devotion had married another; but, though he had long ceased to think of her, the memory of that first love had clung around him like a radiant cloud, softening his spirit and fitting it for high idealism. Sometimes the thought of Milly had, of late, revived that memory.

But when the ultimatum went forth that society considered Milly ought to be relegated to another sphere, the professor had a ridiculous dream. It was absurd, to hope that Milly, the belle of the little town . . . and he an old fog of forty!

At any rate, he must tell Milly. And he did so, when he met her in the library after dinner, which the professor always took alone.

"My dear," he said, "I have an unpleasant thing to say to you. It is a problem—"

"Can't you solve it by algebra?" inquired Milly, looking at him with a twinkle in her eyes. "You know, you always say, everything can be solved by algebra."

"And so it can, my dear," said Doctor Syntax.

"You remember how you found your spectacles," pursued Milly mischievously.

"But this is serious, Milly," said Doctor Syntax. "Some people in this town have apparently been putting their heads together and have come to the conclusion that it is not right for a single girl, even an adopted daughter, to keep house for an old bachelor like me. It is a preposterous idea, but the force of public opinion is like the symbol X, always handed when it is not wanted and never translatable into precise terms until the final solution."

"Well, I have come to the same conclusion myself," said Milly calmly.

"What?" exclaimed Doctor Syntax. He had expected a scene, a strife, war—and here was Milly calmly acquiescing in his decision. "But what are you going to do, my dear?" he continued. "I can't bear the thought of losing you."

"You needn't lose me," said Milly, with preternatural gravity, studying her plate. But even then there was a mischievous twinkle in her eyes.

"This is very strange, my dear," said Doctor Syntax. "You have accepted the public opinion as to the inadvisability of your remaining here as my housekeeper, and yet you say that I need not lose you. Logically, that implies that you could propose to remain here in some other capacity; and yet I fail to see what that could be, or how it could affect public opinion."

"Which we have designated X," said Milly, raising her eyes to the professor's for one fleeting moment. And in that moment the professor felt strangely disconcerted, and yet strangely glad. Unconsciously he threw back his shoulders.

"Well, my dear, suppose the variants are Y and Z," he said. "Now we have an indeterminate equation. X equals Y or Z multiplied by the unknown factor, which shall be N."

"Why not make it U?" asked Milly. "Make it U, Milly?" The letter U is never used in mathematics except when the other letters of the alphabet have been almost exhausted.

"I should really prefer you to make it U," persisted Milly.

"Very well. U it shall be, then," said the professor.

"Oh, I'm afraid that would never do," said Milly. But, seeing that the professor was only staring at her in perplexity, she resigned herself. "Very well! Go on," she said.

"It is obvious, then, that X equals YU or ZU," said Doctor Syntax, warming to his task.

"YU," I think," said Milly gravely.

"In that case," said the professor, X, the unknown factor, equals Y divided by U. Now, algebra helps us no more unless we can state U in positive terms. Now let E be the possibility of your remaining here in the capacity of—secretary, let us say, and F the possibility of becoming—let us say my stenographer. Then U equals—"

"YF," said Milly, triumphantly.

"Eh?" asked Doctor Syntax. "No, my dear, it couldn't equal YF, because—"

"Then I shall go," said Milly, rising from her chair, and the professor was amazed to hear a strangled sob.

"Now, Milly," he said gravely, "really you women are very illogical. YF is impossible. Stop! Listen to me, Milly, before you go out of that door. I—er—"

Doctor Syntax sprang toward her and clasped her in his arms. "Milly!" he cried. "I've—I've found my—"

Calvin Coolidge Began Public Life As Obscure Councilman, Reaching High Office After Active Service

A biographer has said of President Coolidge:

"The story of Calvin Coolidge is an amazing story, none more so. A red-haired, freckled boy on a plain farm, who was not a leader even among the boys of a small Vermont village, has become President of the United States. He always kept on going, from the farm, on the farm, up and on and always. His is a story for every father and mother and child, a story of responsibilities for the first, and of opportunity for the last."

As a struggling young lawyer in the city of Northampton, Mass., this man who was destined to greatness first became interested in public service and in 1899 he was elected to his first office—city councilman, without a salary.

Successively he has been chosen for eleven additional public offices since that time, a record of twenty-five years of unselfish and able administration. He was the city solicitor of Northampton in 1900 and 1901 and his subsequent offices follow:

Clerk of the Courts, Northampton, 1903.
Chairman Northampton City Committee, 1904.
State representative, 1907-08.
Mayor of Northampton, 1910-11.
State Senator, 1912-15.
President of State Senate, 1914-15.
Lieutenant Governor, 1916-18.
Governor, 1919-24.

Vice-President of the United States, 1921-23.

President, 1923—
By being "as quick to stand by the weak when they are right as to leave power when it is wrong," President Coolidge throughout his public career has marked his various administrations with an unquestioned stability.

Momentous decisions have been his to make. He has made them, often under severest criticism, conscious of justice and sympathy. His thought always has been, as R. M. Washburn, a former colleague, declared: "for the long, the permanent good and not for the demand of the present."

In each of his trusts he has kept the faith with those who believed in him—the plain people.

Socialist-Industrial Party Files Ticket With Secretary State

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Aug. 2.—The socialist-industrial party, successor to the socialist-labor party, today filed by petition with the secretary of state its ticket for the state and national elections.

Oscar Anderson, St. Paul, is the candidate for governor, and John B. Johnson, St. Paul, candidate for presidential elector.

F. P. Johnson, Oregon, is candidate for president and Verne L. Reynolds of Maryland, candidate for vice-president.

'Too Fat to Drown,' Moans Woman Seeking Death

St. Paul, Aug. 2.—"Too fat to drown!"

That was the plaint of a woman who said she was Georgiana Roycraft, 39, 1147 Geranium st., St. Paul, after police had rescued her from the water beneath the Lamborn ave. bridge at Superior, Wis.

She had jumped in. She made a great splash, weighing more than 200 pounds, according to dispatches from Superior, but could not manage to keep her head under water.

Search of the city and telephone directories failed to reveal the name of Georgiana Roycraft. The family living at 1147 Geranium st. is not named Roycraft.

Pressure-Feed Lubrication: In the Oldsmobile Six engine you find pressure-feed lubrication to every revolving part. This superior lubrication system means long life.

Big Crankshaft: Perfectly balanced. That means elimination of vibration—and vibration is another foe of long life.

Oversize Bearings: Airplane type—used in Liberty engines during the war.

Splendid Cooling: Water flows all the way around all the six cylinders, valve seats and spark plug openings. Result—perfect cooling, no distortion, longer life. Valves are unusually large, cylinders are "bored" to a glass-like smoothness, perfectly-fitting grey iron pistons carry hammered rings. Result—perfect compression, surplus power and unusual long life.

ROMANCE

OF WHEAT IS
INTERESTINGLITTLE GRAIN HAS CAUSED
WARS WITHOUT
NUMBERHAS MADE MILLIONAIRES AND
ELECTED PRESI-
DENTS

(By United Press)

Washington, Aug. 2.—Millions of bushels of hordeum have been harvested and are now on their way to market. In fact the United States leads the world in the production of this crop. Yet there was none of it when Columbus announced that he was taking a first mortgage on the new world in the name of Isabella. You find this crop in some form on your table at every meal.

Baltimore was once the leading point of export in America according to the American Nature Association, but things have changed since then, for hordeum, otherwise wheat, is now grown in forty-three states. News bulletins tell an anxious world the wheat crop conditions. Millions are won and lost by gamblers in the wheat market. Political parties claim candidates can be elected if the price of wheat goes up. Historians have pointed out that wheat, or the need of it, has caused wars.

In 1923 the wheat output of the United States was 781,737,000 bushels, while in 1850 it was only one hundred million bushels. In 1919 production jumped to 967,979,000 bushels, due to the call of war.

The Grass Family

Wheat belongs to the grass family. Its family name is hordeum, and if the system of the genealogy books were followed, four main branches would be found—common wheat, Egyptian or English wheat, Flint, Durum or Macaroni wheat and Dwarf wheat. The family tree would show many offshoots from each of these groups; wheats with interesting names like Turkey Red, Blue Stem, Scotch Fife, Golden Chaff and Bearded Winter Fife; red wheats and white wheats, winter wheats and Spring wheats; hard wheats and soft wheats.

In varying climates and in different soils, through experiment, through crossing and mixing, myriad kinds of wheats have developed.

The kernel wears an overcoat composed of cellulose. Next is a coat, and then a vest composed of bran. The kernel is still further protected by a shirt of gluten cells. Then comes the wheat kernel itself, with tiny indentations at the bottom where the germ of the new plant is stored. In different kinds of wheats, the relative sizes of these coverings and the kernel vary, deciding the wheat's value and use.

We have Spring wheats and Winter wheats. Climate and soil have much to do with whether a winter or spring crop, or both, can be grown and so far as variety goes, it is the farmer's task to find which gives the best results on his land. Preparation is the same, the soil being loosened from three to eight inches deep with plow or harrow, the modern descendants of the bent stick or wooden plow of early days.

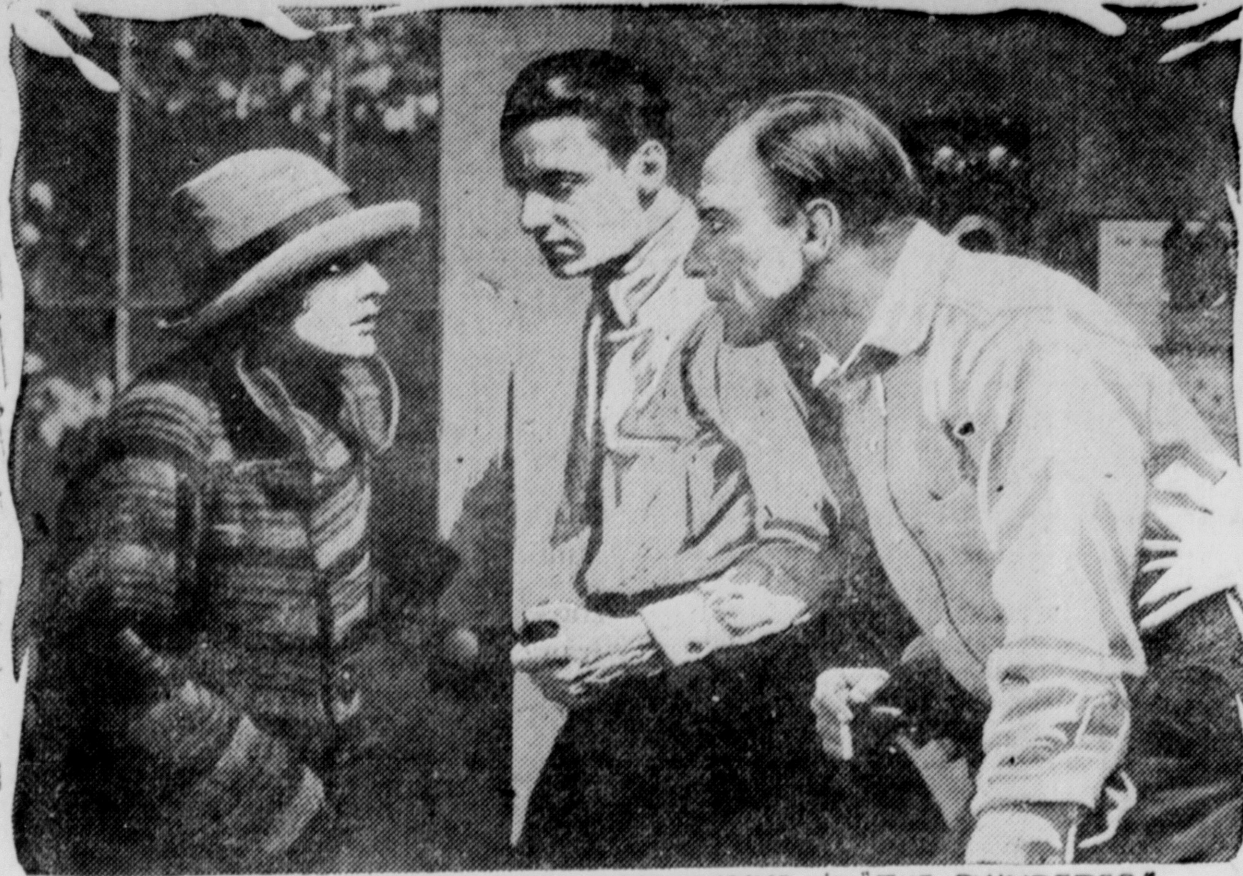

Wheat Eats Nitrogen

The wheat eats nitrogen from the soil. Spring wheat is particularly hungry for this. The weight and size of the kernel determines the flour yield. Flour made from hard wheat is the chief bread flour. That which is milled from soft wheat is best for crackers, cake and pastry. Durum flour makes a sticky dough fitted for the making of macaroni, into which more than 100,000,000 bushels of the output of the United States goes. Graham flour is made from the whole grain ground into powder, while whole wheat flour, not as coarse as graham, is made from grinding what is left after the bran layers are removed.

Flour is the chief product of the wheat field, but the straw is used for fodder, for bedding or for plowing into the field as fertilizer. It is also used in the manufacture of hats, doormats and paper.

But nature makes man work to save his wheat. How many know a black stem rust of grain, annually taking a toll of some fifty million dollars' worth of potential food products in the north central states, is a disease which can be curbed?

In the plant world the "germ" or a disease is sometimes known as a "spore." Like the typhoid germ, the black stem rust spore breeds in certain places. Instead of choosing filth for its birthplace, however, its early days are spent on the leaves of the beautiful, common barberry bush known to many attractive lawns and gardens, and when it leaves the bar-

EVELYN BRENT, EDWARD PHILLIPS and FRANK MAYO in "THE PLUNDERER" WILLIAM FOX special production

In the cast of the William Fox screen version of "The Plunderer," which opens at the Lyceum Sunday, there appears a group of performers with enviable records on the stage and before the camera. This fact, combined with an extraordinary story and scene after scene of spectacular perfection, serves to make the picture one of the best shown here this season.

Frank Mayo has the leading role as a hard-hitting, clear-eyed mine superintendent. Evelyn Brent is "The Lilly," picturesque owner of a local dance hall and gambling inferno, with whom the young mine superintendent is in love. Tom Santschi is admirable as the plunderer, a villain if ever there was one.

Others in the cast are James Mason, Peggy Shaw, Edward Phillips and Dan Mason. All of them have had stage experience and success.

Their talents are brought into full play in this picture of romance and action. A scene showing a mining town flooded beneath the waters of a wrecked reservoir is one of the most thrilling a fan would want to see. A fight between Mayo and Santschi is equally as striking as the one in "The Spoilers." "The Plunderer" is a picture you will enjoy from first scene to last.

berry it romps through the fields on the wings of the summer breeze.

A Dangerous Barberry

The common barberry is the dangerous barberry; the Japanese, the harmless. The common barberry is a tall, erect, spiny bush, often as much as ten or twelve feet high. The leaves are green or purple and have saw-tooth edges.

A complete story of wheat is not only the story of the pioneers and their covered wagons, but a story of the world. As frontiers were flung westward, wheat followed the tide of settlement. Today it grows in the soil of forty-three states. It creates economic and agricultural problems with which legislators, economists and business men as well as the farmer must grapple.

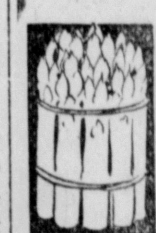

The KITCHEN CABINET

(©, 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

A person's character is the reality of himself. His reputation is the opinion others have formed of him. Character is in him. Reputation is from other people.

SPECIAL GOOD THINGS

When cooking asparagus try the stalks with the thumb nail; if tender and easily penetrated it will cook quickly; the tougher portions should be cut off and cooked first, then remove them and add the tender portions; this saves all flavor. If one likes the asparagus served without cutting into bits, tie up and cook in the bunch. Then serve three or four stalks with butter sauce on toast.

Fried Chicken.—Prepare a chicken by cutting it into serving pieces, then marinate for three hours in one part of lemon juice to three of olive oil, with such herbs and seasonings as one desires. Drain and dip each piece in beaten egg, season well with salt and pepper and fry in deep fat. Drain, place on a platter and pour round it a sauce prepared with a cupful each of milk and veal stock, thickened with egg yolk, and seasoned with minced parsley, mushrooms and a little lemon juice.

Raspberry Whip.—Take one cupful of canned raspberries, two to four tablespoonsful of powdered sugar, one-half pint of cream and two egg whites. Whip the cream, then the egg, and combine the two. Stir in the raspberries and the sugar. The fresh berries are best, but canned will do. Mash the fresh berries and mix with an equal amount of sugar.

Caramel Sponge.—Soften one-fourth of a package of gelatin in one-fourth of a cupful of water, brown one-half cupful of sugar, add one cupful of boiling water, stir until dissolved, add the gelatin and stir over ice water until thick. Have ready two egg whites beaten stiff, add them to the gelatin mixture, continue beating until stiff. Turn into a mold and serve with thin cream.

Club Salad.—Take one and one-half cupfuls of cooked chicken, twelve slices of bacon, three tomatoes and a bunch of lettuce. Arrange the lettuce on individual plates, place on each a peeled tomato, a little diced cooked bacon and some mayonnaise dressing, top with some of the chicken, more mayonnaise and a sprig of parsley. Around the dish arrange toast points spoke fashion, using four or six.

Walter Hiers in "Fair Week" at the Lyceum

"Fair Week," a new picture starring Walter Hiers, opened at the Lyceum Theatre yesterday. It's a story of a big man in a small town. There's love interest, a villain and all that sort of thing. But it's not just another comedy. Far from it. And guess who plays opposite the star? Constance Wilson, Lol's sister. Carmen Phillips is in the cast, too, and so are J. Farrell MacDonald, Little Mary Jane Irving and a host of others.

You'll get a thrill of a lifetime from the balloon episode at the Tri-County Fair, which annually brings the little town of Rome, Mo., out of its drowse with a bang and generally finds it weeks afterward trying to recuperate, with the sheriff, mayor and a few others still hunting around for their watches and other trifles. But this time they make arrangements to cope with these slick carnival fellows, and Hiers is appointed one of the seventeen deputy sheriffs. But that's where the fun begins. Better be in on it, tonight.

Jack Dempsey is on the same program also in one of the new "Fight and Win" pictures.

FLUSH THE KIDNEYS
BEFORE BREAKFAST

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorder often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advt.

This little dollar
goes to market

Every year every family of your acquaintance spends about 70 per cent of its income just for living, exclusive of rent—so economic experts tell us. Think what this means—seven dollars out of every ten invested in food, clothing, household utilities and all the multitude of things that keep a family comfortable and happy.

It's a big job to spend so much money wisely and well. It requires careful business methods to get the best possible returns from each dollar that leaves the family purse.

The clever woman goes for help to the advertisements of her daily paper. There she finds a directory of buying and selling. She learns about the offerings of merchants and manufacturers. She compares values. She weighs quality and price. She takes this opportunity of judging and selecting almost everything she needs to feed, clothe, amuse, instruct and generally bring up her family.

ROMANCE OF WHEAT IS INTERESTING

LITTLE GRAIN HAS CAUSED
NUMBER

HAS MADE MILLIONAIRES AND
ELECTED PRESI-
DENTS

(By United Press)

Washington, Aug. 2.—Millions of bushels of hordeum have been harvested and are now on their way to market. In fact the United States leads the world in the production of this crop. Yet there was none of it when Columbus announced that he was taking a first mortgage on the new world in the name of Isabella. You find this crop in some form on your table at every meal.

Baltimore was once the leading point of export in America according to the American Nature Association, but things have changed since then, for hordeum, otherwise wheat, is now grown in forty-three states. News bulletins tell an anxious world the wheat crop conditions. Millions are won and lost by gamblers in the wheat market. Political parties claim candidates can be elected if the price of wheat goes up. Historians have pointed out that wheat, or the need of it, has caused wars.

In 1923 the wheat output of the United States was 781,737,000 bushels, while in 1850 it was only one hundred million bushels. In 1919 production jumped to 967,979,000 bushels, due to the call of war.

The Grass Family

Wheat belongs to the grass family. Its family name is hordeum, and if the system of the genealogy books were followed, four main branches would be found—common wheat, Egyptian or English wheat, Flint, Durum or Macaroni wheat and Dwarf wheat. The family tree would show many offshoots from each of these groups; wheats with interesting names like Turkey Red, Blue Stem, Scotch Fife, Golden Chaff and Bearded Winter Fife; red wheats and white wheats, winter wheats and spring wheats; hard wheats and soft wheats.

In varying climates and in different soils, through experiment, through crossing and mixing, myriad kinds of wheats have developed.

The kernel wears an overcoat composed of cellulose. Next is a coat, and then a vest composed of bran. The kernel is still further protected by a shirt of gluten cells. Then comes the wheat kernel itself, with tiny indentations at the bottom where the germ of the new plant is stored. In different kinds of wheat, the relative sizes of these coverings and the kernel vary, deciding the wheat's value and use.

We have Spring wheats and Winter wheats. Climate and soil have much to do with whether a winter or spring crop, or both, can be grown and so far as variety goes, it is the farmer's task to find which gives the best results on his land. Preparation is the same, the soil being loosened from three to eight inches deep with plow or harrow, the modern descendants of the bent stick or wooden plow of early days.

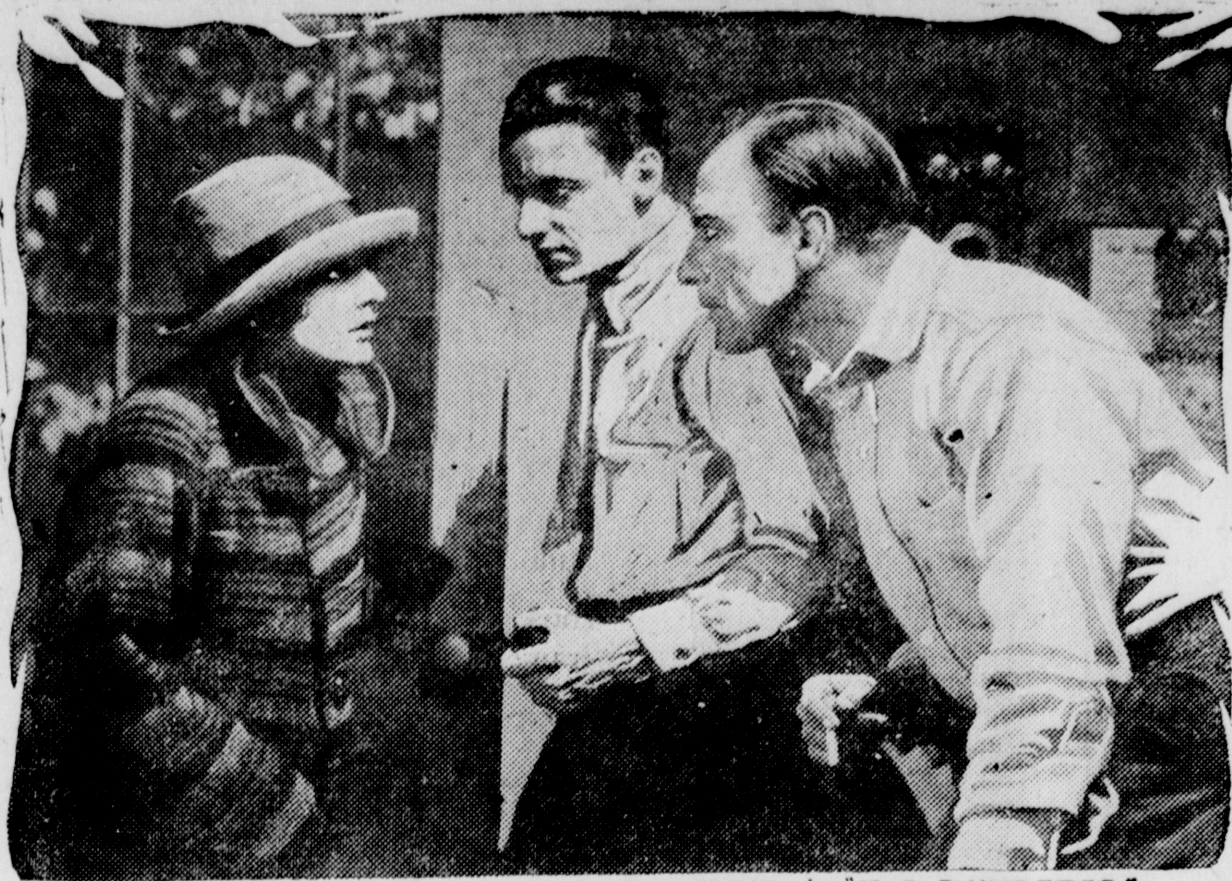

Wheat Eats Nitrogen

The wheat eats nitrogen from the soil. Spring wheat is particularly hungry for this. The weight and size of the kernel determines the flour yield. Flour made from hard wheat is the chief bread flour. That which is milled from soft wheat is best for crackers, cake and pastry. Durum flour makes a sticky dough fitted for the making of macaroni, into which more than 100,000,000 bushels of the output of the United States goes. Graham flour is made from the whole grain ground into powder, while whole wheat flour, not as coarse as graham, is made from grinding what is left after the bran layers are removed.

Flour is the chief product of the wheat field, but the straw is used for fodder, for bedding or for plowing into the field as fertilizer. It is also used in the manufacture of hats, doormats and paper.

But nature makes man work to save his wheat. How many know a black stem rust of grain, annually taking a toll of some fifty million dollars' worth of potential food products in the north central states, is a disease which can be curbed?

In the plant world the "germ" or a disease is sometimes known as a "spore." Like the typhoid germ, the black stem rust spore breeds in certain places. Instead of choosing filth for its birthplace, however, its early days are spent on the leaves of the beautiful, common barberry bush known to many attractive lawns and gardens, and when it leaves the bar-

EVELYN BRENT, EDWARD PHILLIPS AND FRANK MAYO in "THE PLUNDERER"
William Fox special production

In the cast of the William Fox screen version of "The Plunderer," which opens at the Lyceum Sunday, there appears a group of performers with enviable records on the stage and before the camera. This fact, combined with an extraordinary story and scene after scene of spectacular perfection, serves to make the picture one of the best shown here this season.

Frank Mayo has the leading role

as a hard-hitting, clear-eyed mine superintendent. Evelyn Brent is "The Lilly," picturesque owner of a local dance hall and gambling inferno, with whom the young mine superintendent is in love. Tom Santschi is admirable as the plunderer, a villain if ever there was one.

Others in the cast are James Mason, Peggy Shaw, Edward Phillips and Dan Mason. All of them have had stage experience and success.

Their talents are brought into full play in this picture of romance and action. A scene showing a mining town flooded beneath the waters of a wrecked reservoir is one of the most thrilling a fan would want to see. A fight between Mayo and Santschi is equally as striking as the one in "The Spoilers." "The Plunderer" is a picture you will enjoy from first scene to last.

berry it romps through the fields on the wings of the summer breeze.

A Dangerous Barberry

The common barberry is the dangerous barberry; the Japanese, the harmless. The common barberry is a tall, erect, spiny bush, often as much as ten or twelve feet high. The leaves are green or purple and have saw-tooth edges.

A complete story of wheat is not only the story of the pioneers and their covered wagons, but a story of the world. As frontiers were flung westward, wheat followed the tide of settlement. Today it grows in the soil of forty-three states. It creates economic and agricultural problems with which legislators, economists and business men as well as the farmer must grapple.

A person's character is the reality of himself. His reputation is the opinion others have formed of him. Character is in him. Reputation is from other people.

SPECIAL GOOD THINGS

When cooking asparagus try the stalks with the thumb nail; if tender and easily penetrated it will cook quickly; the tougher portions should be cut off and cooked first, then remove them and add the tender portions; this saves all flavor. If one likes the asparagus served without cutting into bits, tie up and cook in the bunch. Then serve three or four stalks with butter sauce on toast.

Fried Chicken.—Prepare a chicken by cutting it into serving pieces, then marinate for three hours in one part of lemon juice to three of olive oil, with such herbs and seasonings as one desires. Drain and dip each piece in beaten egg, season well with salt and pepper and fry in deep fat. Drain, place on a platter and pour round it a sauce prepared with a cupful each of milk and veal stock, thickened with egg yolk, and seasoned with minced parsley, mushrooms and a little lemon juice.

Raspberry Whip.—Take one cupful of canned raspberries, two to four tablespoons of powdered sugar, one half pint of cream and two egg whites. Whip the cream, then the egg, and combine the two. Stir in the raspberries and the sugar. The fresh berries are best, but canned will do. Mash the fresh berries and mix with an equal amount of sugar.

Caramel Sponge.—Soften one-fourth of a package of gelatin in one-fourth of a cupful of water, brown one-half cupful of sugar, add one cupful of boiling water, stir until dissolved, add the gelatin and stir over ice water until thick. Have ready two egg whites beaten stiff, add them to the gelatin mixture, continue beating until stiff. Turn into a mold and serve with thin cream.

Club Salad.—Take one and one-half cupfuls of cooked chicken, twelve slices of bacon, three tomatoes and a bunch of lettuce. Arrange the lettuce on individual plates, place on each a peeled tomato, a little diced cooked bacon and some mayonnaise dressing, top with some of the chicken, more mayonnaise and a sprig of parsley. Both young men left their studies and entered pictures, but never met again until Ingram was casting his production of "The Prisoner of Zenda." Then MacGregor, who had gained experience in William deMille productions and other pictures, was given a leading role.

MRS. N. E. PAINE PASSED AWAY

Was Widow of R. H. Paine and a Pioneer Resident of Brainerd

DIED AT DAUGHTER'S HOME

Was 77 Years of Age and for Many Years Made Home With Son Ray H. Paine

Mrs. Nellie E. Paine, widow of R. H. Paine, and a pioneer resident of Brainerd, passed away early this morning at the home of her daughter Mrs. George Caron, at Thief River Falls, Minn. She suffered a stroke of paralysis about a week ago, from which she never recovered.

Mrs. Paine was 77 years old, and has made her home for many years with her son, Ray H. Paine. She went to Thief River Falls a year ago to make an extended visit with her daughter.

She is survived by four daughters and two sons, being Mrs. George Caron, Mrs. Dan Mahoney, of Sisson, S. D., Mrs. Vera Husted, of Brainerd, and Miss Laura Paine, a teacher on the range, Ray H. Paine of this city, and Leo Paine residing in California. All were at her bedside with the exception of Leo, who was enroute to Thief River Falls. Mrs. Paine's husband passed away in Brainerd some thirty years ago.

The remains are being brought to Brainerd for burial, but no funeral arrangements have as yet been announced.

TWO BRANDT BOYS PLEAD NOT GUILTY

(By United Press)
Marquette, Wis., Aug. 2.—Pleading not guilty when arraigned here on charges of second degree murder and arson in connection with the burning to death of their father, John Brandt, Sr., in a barn on a farm near Beaver, Wis., three years ago, John Brandt, Jr., and his brother, Charles, are being held in the county jail here pending a further hearing.

With the arraignment of the two men the "arson-murder" case has taken on new developments, with the insistence of the men that they are the victims of a vengeance plot and the counter insistence of the "girl in the case" that such is not true.

FORMER SECRETARY OF WAR NARROWLY ESCAPED INJURY

(By United Press)
Cleveland, O., Aug. 2.—Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, narrowly escaped serious injury today in a streetcar collision in which five persons were injured seriously and a score others cut and bruised.

Baker was standing beside the motorcar of a Shaker Heights two-car train as it sped around a curve, crashing into a Moreland Circle car, caving in the rear end of the first car and the front end of the Shaker Heights train.

Baker was slightly bruised. Five persons were taken to hospitals.

Duluth Busses Operate Under New Arrangement

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 2.—Busses, barred from the streets of Duluth on which double tract street car lines are installed except at night, have begun running between the east end of Duluth and Oliver, Wis., west of here. Intercity busses are exempted by the ordinance from its provisions. In addition to running to Oliver, the busses pass through New Duluth, Gary and Morgan Park, suburbs. A newly formed company, the Minnesota and Wisconsin Transportation company, is operating the busses under the new plan.

RAINS IMPROVE ALL HIGHWAYS

Weekly Report on County Roads Given by County Highway Engineer Murphy

MAINTENANCE MEN BUSY

Washouts Caused by Tuesday's Heavy Rain Have All Been Repaired

The rains this week have improved all highways throughout the county, according to County Highway Engineer Walter M. Murphy, who gives out the weekly road report of highway under his supervision.

Maintenance men have made the most of their opportunity, taking full advantage of the recent rains to do considerable work on the roads, work that could not be done in dry weather. The hard rain of Tuesday night made some washouts on the shoulders of several roads, but these have been repaired.

Mr. Murphy gives out the following report for the convenience of week end motorists planning tours:

State Road No. 2. (Dewing highway). This road has had no construction work done upon it since it was taken over by the county. Maintenance has kept the surface in fair condition. Roadway is narrow. The county commissioners at their meeting today are considering the advisability of building a cut-off which will shorten this road several miles.

State Road No. 3. (Brainerd, Merrifield, Cross Lake, Emily). Brainerd to Merrifield, new construction, recently completed. Surface very good. Merrifield to Cross Lake, excellent, next two miles sandy, balance of distance to Emily, very good.

State Road No. 4. (Crosby north to Emily and Cass county line). Crosby to Mississippi river bridge, road is winding, with several dangerous curves. Surface good. Two miles of new construction being put in just south of the river bridge, does not interfere with traffic over old road. Bridge to Emily excellent. Emily to Duting and Cass county line, very good.

State Road No. 5. (Deerwood, Bay lake and south). This highway is in excellent condition its entire length, and offers a beautiful drive from Bay lake south. It connects with Trunk Highway No. 18 at the Workman corner, about eighteen miles east of Brainerd.

White line roads, those built by the townships and maintained by the county forces, are in general very good. Attention is called to White line No. 10, between Merrifield and Breezy Point, known as the "Inland Trail." This road is the most direct route to Pelican lake, from Brainerd, and offers a short-cut to Breezy Point, the distance being only twenty miles.

Other White lines deserving mention include the road between Pequot Breezy Point and Cross lake, and the one from Pine River east to Emily. Both are in very good condition.

TRUNK HIGHWAYS IN GOOD SHAPE

Minnesota trunk highways in general continue in good condition, except on some scattered sections where traffic is slowed up as the result of recent rains, according to a state highway department bulletin today.

The rains that pulled down some sections helped patrolmen and other maintenance forces to better others, the bulletin states. A few days work under favorable conditions will bring the routes back to normal standard, save where heavy traffic on inadequate sections begins to have effect.

The bulletin:
T. H. No. 2.—Duluth, Brainerd, Aitkin, Wadena, Detroit and Moorhead—Fair or better out of Duluth to Tamarac; good through Aitkin, Brainerd and Motley; fair on through Staples, Wadena and Detroit to Moorhead; then good to Breckenridge except for fair detour at Hawley.

T. H. No. 18.—Elk River, Millac, Garrison and Brainerd—Good.

T. H. No. 19.—Brainerd, Walker and Cass Lake—Generally good.

T. H. No. 27.—St. Cloud, Little Falls and Brainerd—Paved from St. Cloud through Royalton and Little Falls and good also on new temporary route to Brainerd.

Mrs. Nellie E. Paine, widow of R. H. Paine, and a pioneer resident of Brainerd, passed away early this morning at the home of her daughter Mrs. George Caron, at Thief River Falls, Minn. She suffered a stroke of paralysis about a week ago, from which she never recovered.

Mrs. Paine was 77 years old, and has made her home for many years with her son, Ray H. Paine. She went to Thief River Falls a year ago to make an extended visit with her daughter.

She is survived by four daughters and two sons, being Mrs. George Caron, Mrs. Dan Mahoney, of Sisseton, S. D., Mrs. Vera Husted, of Brainerd, and Miss Laura Paine, a teacher on the range, Ray H. Paine of this city, and Leo Paine residing in California. All were at her bedside with the exception of Leo, who was enroute to Thief River Falls. Mrs. Paine's husband passed away in Brainerd some thirty years ago.

The remains are being brought to Brainerd for burial, but no funeral arrangements have as yet been announced.

100 ACRES IN ALFALFA BY CON O'BRIEN

Con O'Brien, one of the largest land owners of this county, has become converted to the alfalfa idea and has put in 100 acres on land about six miles from Brainerd.

The field is thriving and promises a heavy yield of this staple crop.

TWO BRANDT BOYS PLEAD NOT GUILTY

(By United Press)
Marquette, Wis., Aug. 2.—Pleading not guilty when arraigned here on charges of second degree murder and arson in connection with the burning to death of their father, John Brandt, Sr., in a barn on a farm near Beaver, Wis., three years ago, John Brandt, Jr., and his brother, Charles, are being held in the county jail here pending a further hearing.

With the arraignment of the two men the "arson-murder" case has taken on new developments, with the insistence of the men that they are the victims of a vengeance plot and the counter insistence of the "girl in the case" that such is not true.

FORMER SECRETARY OF WAR NARROWLY ESCAPED INJURY

(By United Press)
Cleveland, O., Aug. 2.—Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, narrowly escaped serious injury today in a streetcar collision in which five persons were injured seriously and a score others cut and bruised.

Baker was standing beside the motorcar of a Shaker Heights two-car train as it sped around a curve, crashing into a Moreland Circle car, causing in the rear end of the first car and the front end of the Shaker Heights train.

Baker was slightly bruised. Five persons were taken to hospitals.

Duluth Busses Operate Under New Arrangement

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 2.—Busses, barred from the streets of Duluth on which double tract street car lines are installed except at night, have begun running between the east end of Duluth and Oliver, Wis., west of here. Intercity busses are exempted by the ordinance from its provisions. In addition to running to Oliver, the busses pass through New Duluth, Gary and Morgan Park, suburbs. A newly formed company, the Minnesota and Wisconsin Transportation company, is operating the busses under the new plan.

RAINS IMPROVE ALL HIGHWAYS

Weekly Report on County Roads Given by County Highway Engineer Murphy

MAINTENANCE MEN BUSY

Washouts Caused by Tuesday's Heavy Rain Have All Been Repaired

The rains this week have improved all highways throughout the county, according to County Highway Engineer Walter M. Murphy, who gives out the weekly road report of highway under his supervision.

Maintenance men have made the most of their opportunity, taking full advantage of the recent rains to do considerable work on the roads, work that could not be done in dry weather. The hard rain of Tuesday night made some washouts on the shoulders of several roads, but these have been repaired.

Mr. Murphy gives out the following report for the convenience of week end motorists planning tours:

State Road No. 2. (Dewey highway). This road has had no construction work done upon it since it was taken over by the county. Maintenance has kept the surface in fair condition. Roadway is narrow. The county commissioners at their meeting today are considering the advisability of building a cut-off which will shorten this road several miles.

State Road No. 3. (Brainerd, Merrifield, Cross Lake, Emily). Brainerd to Merrifield, new construction, recently completed. Surface very good. Merrifield to Cross Lake, excellent, next two miles sandy, balance of distance to Emily, very good.

State Road No. 4. (Crosby north to Emily and Cass county line). Crosby to Mississippi river bridge, road is winding, with several dangerous curves. Surface good. Two miles of new construction being put in just south of the river bridge, does not interfere with traffic over old road. Bridge to Emily excellent, Emily to Duting and Cass county line, very good.

State Road No. 5. (Deerwood, Bay lake and south). This highway is in excellent condition its entire length, and offers a beautiful drive from Bay lake south. It connects with Trunk Highway No. 18 at the Workman corner, about eighteen miles east of Brainerd.

White line roads, those built by the townships and maintained by the county forces, are in general very good. Attention is called to White line No. 10, between Merrifield and Breezy Point, known as the "Inland Trail." This road is the most direct route to Pelican lake, from Brainerd, and offers a short-cut to Breezy Point, the distance being only twenty miles.

Other White lines deserving mention include the road between Pequot Breezy Point and Cross lake, and the one from Pine River east to Emily. Both are in very good condition.

TRUNK HIGHWAYS IN GOOD SHAPE

Minnesota trunk highways in general continue in good condition, except on some scattered sections where traffic is slowed up as the result of recent rains, according to a state highway department bulletin today.

The rains that pulled down some sections helped patrolmen and other maintenance forces to better others, the bulletin states. A few days work under favorable conditions will bring the routes back to normal standard, save where heavy traffic on inadequate sections begins to have effect.

The bulletin:

T. H. No. 2.—Duluth, Brainerd, Aitkin, Wadena, Detroit and Moorhead—Fair or better out of Duluth to Tamarac; good through Aitkin, Brainerd and Motley; fair on through Staples, Wadena and Detroit to Moorhead; then good to Breckenridge except for fair detour at Hawley.

YOUTH SERVED AT 1924 OLYMPICS

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 2.—Youth was served at the eighth Olympiad. Particularly pleasing to Americans should be the victories of Helen Wills, sun-kissed California maid of 18, in the women's singles, and of "Vinnie" Richards, just turned 21, in the men's singles.

For their success foreshadows stout defense of the Davis Cup and the winning and holding of the Wightman Cup for many years to come.

Under proper coaching, Miss Wills and young Richards are not likely to "burn themselves out." The even temperament of the western girl, remarkable as her ability on the courts, is a source of wonder to those who watch her play. Cool, collected, game, she can rise to any heights. The only regrettable feature of her first European tour—in which she won the Olympic singles championship and practically single-handed added the women's doubles title—was that the Wimbledon matches in which Miss Wills failed to win the world's title fell at a time when she happened not to be in the best of health.

Helen Wills is probably the most gracious winner of all our tennis stars, and in this respect endeared herself to friends and friendly foe alike on the courts of England and France. If anyone can warm the cockles of a defeated opponent's heart, with a smile and a handshake across the net, it is our national and Olympic champion.

When Miss Wills came out of the west some seasons ago, she had her hair in pigtail down her back. Her smashing service, patterned after that of the great Maurice McLaughlin, her eye-shade, and her personal charm are three things we recall.

Ed Sullivan tells how, as a reward for her services in "covering" the Seabright tournament, she demanded "lemon lime lollipops"—and got them.

Quiet-mannered, retiring, one of the kind of girls who is accompanied by her mother, the serious miss from the Golden Gate certainly made a hit in England, where Queen Mary was pleased to receive her.

Miss Wills' playing in the women's doubles at Paris will not be forgotten for many a day. Mrs. Wightman, her partner, was off form that day, and the British pair who met the Americans in the Olympic finals were Miss Kitty McKane and Miss Covell. In each set, the British ran the score up to 5-2 in their favor, and each time it was sensational play by the Californian which saved the day and won the victory, 7-5, 8-6.

Speaking of youth, in the finals of the women's singles, in which she achieved her second championship, Helen Wills was opposed by Mile. "Didi" Vlasto, a half-pint size French girl of Greek extraction, who was herself but 18 years old.

"Vinnie" Richards played brilliantly in the Olympic tennis matches; he played in the men's doubles with Francis T. Hunter, and won the championship for America. The following day he took the court against Henri Cochet, about his own age, and added the men's singles title, after five gruelling sets, in which he showed himself badly "over-tanned."

It took "guts"—a great word, by the way, to describe the sine qua non of a champion—for Richards to win that match; he was tired out, whereas Cochet appeared fairly fresh. The American boy's tennis was the better, but after two sets he was about played out. Cochet won two sets, then, and things looked black, but Richards, calling upon the last ounce of courage and stamina, beat his way to victory.

Asked how he did it when so obviously "all in," Richards grinned and replied:

"Well, you see, I'd serve, then grab the baseline with my hand and rush to the net so Cochet couldn't drive me into the back court."

"Vinnie" also was a finalist in the mixed doubles, but he gave too much in the men's doubles to do more than offer a perfunctory resistance, paired with Mrs. Jessup, against "Dick" Williams and Mrs. George Wightman.

N. E. BADGERS IN

6TH STRAIGHT WIN
THIS MORNINGDEFEATED THE HIVEY NINE AT
KOERING FIELD,
13 TO 7

BUOYED BY NUMEROUS VICTORIES, THEY NOW CHALLENGE PIRATES

The Northeast Brainerd Badgers, a baseball team composed of boys sixteen years and older, made their sixth straight winning this morning, when they defeated the Hivey nine at the Koering field, by a score of 13 to 7.

Battery for the Badgers, Marshall and Montgomery; for Hivey, Quinn Hively and Purdy.

The Badgers defeated the Southeast Brainerd Wolves in two games, by scores of 12 to 4 and 25 to 10. Gabourn, Heikkinen and Laurens formed the battery for the Wolves.

The Northeast champions defeated the Rofidal team in three battles, the first two games by a score of 9 to 2 each and the last game 23 to 4. The battery for the losers was Bacon and Rofidal.

The Badgers now complain that they can get no team composed of boys of their own age, to play against them, and with this reputation they have decided to challenge the Pirates, a team of older players belonging to the city league. The Badgers promise to give the Pirates a hard run, and will go into the game to win, if their challenge is accepted.

Bush Tries to Get at One, Babe Follows Suit in St. Louis Game

In the St. Louis game yesterday police had to restrain Joe Bullet Bush who tried to attack a fan who yelled at him in the seventh inning. Babe Ruth backed up Bush and tried to get into the stand too.

When the Babe was called out on a double play in the ninth, he protested so loud he was put out of the game.

The Yanks won 3 to 2.

YOUTH SERVED AT 1924 OLYMPICS

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 2.—Youth was served at the eighth Olympiad. Particularly pleasing to Americans should be the victories of Helen Wills, sun-kissed California maid of 18, in the women's singles, and of "Vinnie" Richards, just turned 21, in the men's singles.

For their success foreshadows stout defense of the Davis Cup and the winning and holding of the Wightman Cup for many years to come.

Under proper coaching, Miss Wills and young Richards are not likely to "burn themselves out." The even temperament of the western girl, remarkable as her ability on the courts, is a source of wonder to those who watch her play. Cool, collected, game, she can rise to any heights. The only regrettable feature of her first European tour—in which she won the Olympic singles championship and practically single-handed added the women's doubles title—was that the Wimbledon matches in which Miss Wills failed to win the world's title fell at a time when she happened not to be in the best of health.

Helen Wills is probably the most gracious winner of all our tennis stars, and in this respect endeared herself to friends and foe alike on the courts of England and France. If anyone can warm the cockles of a defeated opponent's heart, with a smile and a handshake across the net, it is our national and Olympic champion.

When Miss Wills came out of the west some seasons ago, she had her hair in pigtail down her back. Her smashing service, patterned after that of the great Maurice McLaughlin, her eye-shade, and her personal charm are three things we recall.

Ed Sullivan tells how, as a reward for her services in "covering" the Seabright tournament, she demanded "lemon lime lollipops"—and got them.

Quiet-mannered, retiring, one of the kind of girls who is accompanied by her mother, the serious miss from the Golden Gate certainly made a hit in England, where Queen Mary was pleased to receive her.

Miss Wills' playing in the women's doubles at Paris will not be forgotten for many a day. Mrs. Wightman, her partner, was off form that day, and the British pair who met the Americans in the Olympic finals were Miss Kitty McKane and Miss Corvill. In each set, the British ran the score up to 5-2 in their favor, and each time it was sensational play by the Californian which saved the day and won the victory, 7-5, 8-6.

Speaking of youth, in the finals of the women's singles, in which she achieved her second championship, Helen Wills was opposed by Mile. "Didi" Vlasto, a half-pint size French girl of Greek extraction, who was herself but 18 years old.

"Vinnie" Richards played brilliantly in the Olympic tennis matches; he played in the men's doubles with Francis T. Hunter, and won the championship for America. The following day he took the court against Henri Cochet, about his own age, and added the men's singles title, after five gruelling sets, in which he showed himself badly "over-tennised."

It took "guts"—a great word, by the way, to describe the sine qua non of a champion—for Richards to win that match; he was tired out, whereas Cochet appeared fairly fresh. The American boy's tennis was the better, but after two sets he was about played out. Cochet won two sets, then, and things looked black, but Richards, calling upon the last ounce of courage and stamina, beat his way to victory.

Asked how he did it when so obviously "all in," Richards grinned and replied:

"Well, you see, I'd serve, then grab the baseline with my hand and rush to the net so Cochet couldn't drive me into the back court."

"Vinnie" also was a finalist in the mixed doubles, but he gave too much in the men's doubles to do more than offer a perfunctory resistance, paired with Mrs. Jessup, against "Dick" Williams and Mrs. George Wightman.

N. E. BADGERS IN

6TH STRAIGHT WIN
THIS MORNINGDEFEATED THE HIVEY NINE AT
KOERING FIELD,
13 TO 7

BUOYED BY NUMEROUS VICTORIES, THEY NOW CHALLENGE PIRATES

The Northeast Brainerd Badgers, a baseball team composed of boys sixteen years and older, made their sixth straight winning this morning, when they defeated the Hivey nine at the Koering field, by a score of 13 to 7.

Batteries for the Badgers, Marshall and Montgomery; for Hivey, Quinn Hively and Purdy.

The Badgers defeated the Southeast Brainerd Wolves in two games, by scores of 12 to 4 and 25 to 10. Gabourn, Heikkinen and Laurens formed the battery for the Wolves.

The Northeast champions defeated the Rofidal team in three battles, the first two games by a score of 9 to 2 each and the last game 23 to 4. The battery for the losers was Bacon and Rofidal.

The Badgers now complain that they can get no team composed of boys of their own age, to play against them, and with this reputation they have decided to challenge the Pirates, a team of older players belonging to the city league. The Badgers promise to give the Pirates a hard run, and will go into the game to win, if their challenge is accepted.

FANS CREATE TROUBLE

Bush Tries to Get at One, Babe Follows Suit in St. Louis Game

In the St. Louis game yesterday police had to restrain Joe Bullet Bush who tried to attack a fan who yelled at him in the seventh inning. Babe Ruth backed up Bush and tried to get into the stand too.

When the Babe was called out on a double play in the ninth, he protested so loud he was put out of the game.

The Yanks won 3 to 2.

NORTH SIDE
BEARCATS WIN
N. E. SLUGGERS

The Northside Bearcats claim the juvenile championship by defeating the Northeast Brainerd Sluggers in what the winners called a "walk-away" game Saturday morning at the Main street grounds by a score of 28 to 8.

"If our pitcher hadn't had a sore arm, we would have shut out the Sluggers," said Arden Miller, catcher for the Bearcats.

The lineup for the Sluggers is as follows: Miller, c. Viken, p. Chadbourne, 1st b. Nelson, 2nd b. McCar-
